

1. To enable RevenueSA to determine your estimated deduction entitlement and frequency of payroll tax returns, you need to enter estimates of wages for the financial year (inclusive of year to date wages, if applicable). Wages entered are to be rounded to the nearest dollar.
The fields that are displayed will depend on whether you are the designated group employer (DGE) or if you have interstate wages.

Employer's South Australian Wages *
Employer's Interstate Wages *
Other Group Member's South Australian Wages *
Other Group Member's Interstate Wages *

Calculate

2. Once you have entered all your wage estimates, click on the Calculate button.
3. The Estimated Deduction details are displayed including your group status, return frequency and estimated deduction.

Recalculate

i Estimated Deduction

Based on your answers provided your group status is: Designated Group Employer

Based on your wage estimates your return frequency is: Monthly

Your estimated monthly deduction is: 32,056

Please Note: If you enter incorrect wage estimates and you need to recalculate your estimated deduction, amend the wage figures as required and click on the Recalculate button.

4. Click on the  button.