

The opinion process is different depending on whether the transaction is reportable for Commonwealth Reporting.

Further information can be found on the Commonwealth Reporting page of RevenueSA's website.

Opinion

As you navigate throughout the process an onscreen progress bar will track your progress. Help is available by selecting the Help button (top right of screen) will return system help, specific to where you are in the progress bar.

You are able to exit at any time and resume the document later. The Opinion will be saved as a draft and stored in the In Progress menu item for Opinions.

You are encouraged to upload as much supporting documentation (e.g. copy of the contract). This will ensure we are able to assess your Opinion as efficiently as possible should we require further information.

See the Stamp Duty Document Guide \(Opinion\) for examples of supporting documentation.

For Commonwealth reporting transactions (system will be determined by the document type) then you will be required to invite the vendor into the transaction, unless you are representing both parties.

Once you click Confirm on the Opinion it will be submitted to RevenueSA and commence the assessment process. You will see the status of the document has updated to Awaiting Assessment. Once this status has been set you can no longer edit either the workspace or the Opinion Document.

Following the submission the document will be reviewed by RevenueSA, who will either issue a Notice of Assessment or a Requisition, requesting you to provide additional information. You will receive these via email and can also view them online.

If you receive a requisition you can access this online and respond, either by uploading a response to the requisition or through typing a response online.

Once an assessment has been issued you are required to pay any outstanding fees, prior to being able to access the Document ID and Certificate of Stamp Duty.

You then Complete Opinion process in RevenueSA Online.

Please Note: The presence of the bell  in the menu names, this indicates that there is a document with an action required, either for payment or to reply to a requisition.
